WOMAN.
Oh, woman with the honey eyes
That shine like stars in midnight skies
Before the break of morn,
Oh, tell me, do you know the power
That lies within them—every hour,
Those eyes so soft and bright?
Oh, woman with the glossy hair,
Do you, who are so frail and fair,
Ever pause to think with scorn
That you have chain us to your side
Where all our strength and manly pride
Are but for your delight?
Oh, woman with the faultless face,
The red, red lips where dimples chase
Each other to and fro,
Oh, do you know your countless charms,
The swelling neck, the rounding arms,
The form a poet's wish,
The hand so tapering and white,
The foot so slim and wee and slight
And fairer than the snow?
You have the power for good or ill,
You charm us to obey your will,
For one smile or a kiss,
—M. Idacer in Womankind.

IN THE AMPHITHEATER.

A Contest Before King Herod and Pontius Pilatus in Jerusalem.

On one of those days he went to the amphitheater, the circus which Herod the Great had built, at some distance from the city. He paid for a seat in one of the upper galleries. On the tiers of seats below him were all sorts of people, and far away, on the opposite side of the vast arena, the sandy level in the middle, he saw, in the lower tier, a caupied place that was furnished magnificently. In it there were throne seats, and on them sat King Herod Antipas, Pontius Pilatus, the Roman governor, two Roman generals, with other distinguished men, and a number of richly dressed women, some of whom wore brilliant tiaras or coronets upon their heads. He stared at them for a few minutes and at the tremendous throng of people, but after that he thought only of what was going on in the arena.

There were chariot races, and Cyril could not help being intensely excited by the mad rush of the contending teams, while all the thousands who looked on shouted and raved. After the races, however, came scenes some of which made him shudder. There were foot races and boxing matches, but these were soon over, and then there were contests between pairs of swordsmen, spearmen, clubmen, and the like, in which the fight went on until one of the combatants was slain. Close upon the last of these duels, bands of gladiators marched in from opposite sides of the arena and charged each other like detachments of soldiers upon a real battlefield.

The fighting was furious and desperate, but one side was soon beaten, for the parties had not been equal. One party had been trained warriors, professional gladiators, and the other only common men, captives taken in a recent raid of Pilatus' soldiers upon a wild tribe beyond the Dead sea. They were brave enough, but they were not these only to be killed for the amusement of the great men and of the multitude. So were the poor victims with whom the day's exhibition closed, for they were driven into the arena, half armed, to contend as best they could with a number of hungry lions, tigers, leopards and hyenas, which were loosed upon them from their dens under the tiers of seats.
—W. O. Stoddard in St. Nicholas.

Old English Music.
Long before the stream of Norman minstrel art sacred music was exercising a beneficial influence. The early British church possessed sacred music, but this was gradually driven out before the onward march of that new church music which Augustine brought with him from Rome (A. D. 597). The Gregorian music (evolved by Pope Gregory out of the Greek tetrachorals and some existing Ambrosian chants) was heard and loved wherever Augustine and his monks built a church. By its means a deep impression was left upon the minds of those who heard and joined in it, but it is curious that we miss altogether the ecclesiastical flavor in the earliest examples that have come down to us of English music during the first quarter of the thirteenth century.

The free and uncontrolled secular music was the first to reflect itself in permanent musical form. Church music per se was not progressive; the church tones for the "service" and "mass" music were fixed, and only a heretical offense was the outcome of tampering therewith, but no such restrictions hampered secular music. — Blackwood's Magazine.

THE KENTUCKY MIDDLE.

The State of Kentucky had ever, since the time of Henry Clay, been Democratic in politics. Last summer the Republican State Convention declared for the single gold standard, and the Democratic State Convention did likewise. The Republican candidate for Governor stood squarely on the platform on which he was nominated and advocated the gold standard. The Democratic candidate for Governor repudiated the gold plank of his platform, and was charged with being inconsistent for accepting a nomination on a platform that he did not endorse. The National Administration was in full accord with the Republican candidate for Governor on the financial question, which was conceded to be the paramount issue, and the speeches made by Secretary Carlisle, the chief adviser of President Cleveland, were intended to benefit the Republic rather than the Democratic candidate for Governor. The Cleveland Democrats voted with the Republicans, and in Jefferson county, which gave Cleveland 7,500 majority over Harrison, the Republican candidate for Governor received about 4,000 majority over his Democratic competitor. Meantime Senator Blackburn, by his decisive stand for silver, had incurred the hostility of the Administration. He made an independent fight for re-election, and though opposed by the Administration forces, has a strong following. The Legislature consists of 138 members, requiring in a full session 70 votes to elect a Senator. Blackburn is the caucus nominee of the Democrats and several times received the votes of the Populists, who hold the balance of power on joint ballot, but there are a half dozen Carlisle or gold Democrats, who will not vote for him, and it is probable that a straight-out gold Republican will be elected to the Senate, if there should be a choice. The middle is exemplified by the attitude of the four leading newspapers of the State. The Louisville Post, which professes to be Democratic, supports Hunter, Republican, for Senator, because he is a gold man. The Courier-Journal and the Times, both Democratic, say the State must not be disgraced by sending Blackburn back to the Senate. These two papers also oppose Hunter, and encourage violence if the Republicans attempt to unseat a Democratic member of the Legislature. The Commercial, a Republican paper, whose editor is Assistant Adjutant-General and a close, confidential friend of the Governor, is opposed to the election of Hunter to the Senate, believing if he is not elected Governor Bradley will be.

Carlisle would advise his followers in the Kentucky Legislature to vote for Blackburn his election would be assured, but the Secretary is committed to the gold standard and will not do that, preferring a gold Republican to a silver Democrat. It is possible that the Legislature may adjourn without electing a Senator, as the Legislatures of Montana, Washington and Wyoming did a few years ago, as there is not much probability of the deadlock being broken.

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES.

John M. McDonald, a clerk in the United States Attorney's office for the district of Montana, brought suit to recover $1,237 for services rendered in 1891. On a trial of the suit in the United States District Court, McDonald secured judgment and the Government appealed. Judge Hawley of the Circuit Court of Appeals has reversed the decision of the District Court. The Court of Appeals holds that the lower court erred in finding that McDonald had performed services for the United States inasmuch as he was employed by the District Attorney and not by the United States and was to be paid by the District Attorney out of the fees and emoluments of his office. Says Judge Hawley: "A clerk in the office of a District Attorney is not a Government officer. The fact that in the emolument accounts of the District Attorney the Auditor may allow him to deduct from his fees the clerk's compensation, does not make the clerk such an officer or employee of the Government as to authorize him to recover any compensation for legal or clerical services rendered in the office of the United States District Attorney. The claim of McDonald is analogous to that of deputy marshals, or deputy clerks, and it has always been held that such officers are in no manner creditors of the United States for the amount of their compensation. Deputy marshals although entitled to certain fees by statute, and recognized by officers of the court, are not officers of the United States in the sense that they can maintain an action against the Government for their fees. * * * It seems clear, from a consideration of the statutes on the subject and the manner in which the accounts of the marshal are made up and settled by the accounting officers of the Treasury Department, that the deputy marshals are not employed by the Government and have no contract, either express or implied, with the United States, in virtue of which they can maintain suit in the execution of process."

Judge Hawley's opinion was concurred in by Judge McKenna, but Judge Gilbert dissented, maintaining that the question at issue did not depend so much upon whether or not McDonald was an employee of the Government as it did upon whether he had a contract, express or implied, with the United States. The petitioner was employed by authority of the Government and he performed his duties exclusively for the Government. He could not bring suit against the District Attorney, for the latter was never personally responsible for the salary. It was therefore the opinion of Judge Gilbert that the petitioner has a claim upon the Government for his services and that the judgment of the lower court should be affirmed.

THE TARIFF BILL KILLED.

The House of Representatives passed what is known as the Dingley Tariff bill, the alleged purpose being to increase the revenue of the Government. That the bill would accomplish this purpose was doubted by many of those who voted for it, as they claimed that an increase of tariff duties, as proposed by the bill, would decrease rather than increase the revenue. However, the Senate Finance Committee, to which the bill was referred, recommended the passage of the Tariff bill with a free coinage amendment. This was opposed by the gold Republicans and Democrats in the Senate, and Chairman Morrill of the Finance Committee yesterday moved to take up the Tariff bill separately. The motion was defeated by a vote of 33 to 22, Cannon, Carter, Dubois, Mantle and Teller, who have heretofore acted with the Republicans, voting against the motion.

Some caustic remarks were indulged in by Morrill, Sherman and Teller and Platt and Aldrich in answer to direct questions, declared emphatically that the Republicans would not accept the Tariff bill with a free coinage amendment. However, as those gentlemen are not authorized to speak for such Republicans as Teller, Cannon, Carter, Dubois, Mantle and others, the threat is an idle one.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

The Tariff Bill Pronounced Dead. WASHINGTON, February 25.—Morrill, Chairman of the Finance Committee, moved in the Senate to-day that the Tariff bill be taken up. He spoke briefly, urging that the need of the Treasury and business demanded action. On a roll-call Morrill's motion was defeated, yeas 22, nays 33.

After the vote had been announced and the defeat of Morrill's motion, a sensational colloquy occurred between Morrill, Teller and Sherman. Morrill said that the Tariff bill was dead, and he added that it was now shown that there was not a Republican majority in the Senate.

Teller responded with intense feeling. He declared that he and his silver Republican associates could not be read out of the Republican party. Sherman followed with a severe arraignment of the action of Congress, saying that it was a crime against the country and against civilization. He declared that he would continue to urge action on the Tariff bill.

Frye took the floor to declare that the Tariff bill was as dead as Julius Caesar. The business interests demanded that the statement be made emphatically that the bill was dead. He hoped it would never be heard from again, and the responsibility might rest where it belonged.

The House has taken up the Van Horn-Turney election contest from the Fifth Missouri District. The majority report favored the contestant, a Republican. The minority report of the Democrats and one Republican favored the recommitment of the case, the reopening of the testimony, the segregation of the legal from the illegal votes and a recount. It is not probable that a vote will be reached to-day. The House has passed the Dingley bill to exterminate Alaskan fur seal herds in case a modus vivendi cannot be concluded for the protection of seals pending the adoption of proper and effective regulations by the countries interested.

A WOMAN POISONER.

Several Charges Preferred Against Her. SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, February 25.—Coroner Shaefer has gone to Gallipolis to exhumate the body of Professor Van Sickle. It is charged that he was poisoned by Mrs. C. M. Powell last December to secure $6,000 worth of Government bonds which he had while boarding with her. T. S. Maloney of Leonaardsburg, Ohio, also charges her with poisoning his two children, who died, and his wife, who recovered. Mrs. Powell is the daughter of John Talley of Thurmanville, New York, and it is alleged that he also charges her with the poisoning of two of her sisters before she left home. While teaching school under the name of Francis Brown she married Clement Powell, who left her on account of alleged infidelity with Professor Van Sickle. She sued Maloney for $10,000 damages on account of his charges. A telegram from Delaware, Ohio, says that Mrs. Powell is under arrest there and will be brought here to await the result of the Coroner's investigation.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTICES.

Reports of outrages and massacres by Turks in Armenia continue to be received. The Turkish Government asserts that the reports are unfounded. The New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio railroad was sold yesterday under order of the courts to H. B. Tigner for $10,000,000, the minimum price set by the courts.

The steamer Queen, inward bound from Portland, Or., collided with the British bark Strathdon, lying at anchor in San Francisco Bay, during a heavy fog yesterday. Both vessels were somewhat damaged.

Senator Goebel's bill in the Kentucky

Legislature to repeal the charter of the Southern Pacific Company was discussed yesterday and there is a probability of its being passed, though there is a strong lobby against it.

Ice in the Mississippi at Davenport, Iowa, carried out a span of the Government drawbridge, which was undergoing repairs. It will not affect travel on the Rock Island, which crosses the Mississippi at that point.

A. W. Patterson shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide at Madison, Wis., yesterday morning. Both attended revival services the evening before the tragedy and went home apparently in good spirits.

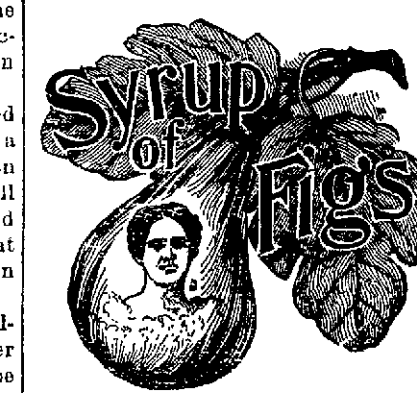

A. W. Van Houten, who killed Richard Newell, Jr., chief engineer of the Midland Terminal Railroad, was sentenced to be hanged yesterday. Governor McIntyre of Colorado commuted the sentence to imprisonment for life.

Miss Elizabeth Flayler, daughter of General Flayler, Chief of Ordnance, United States Army, pleaded guilty to involuntary murder in Washington yesterday, and was sentenced to three hours in jail and to pay a fine of $500. Last spring she shot a colored boy in her father's garden.

The Supreme Court of California has unanimously decided that the primary elections law passed at the last session of the Legislature of that State is unconstitutional as it is special and local legislation as it applies only to counties of the first and second class, that is to say San Francisco and Los Angeles. The Senate Committee on Finance yesterday discussed Baker's bill to prohibit the further issue of Government bonds without the authority of Congress. The Republicans contended that the passage of the bill would be equivalent to the repeal of the Resumption Act. The vote to reconsider the bill stood five to five, Morrill, Sherman, Allison, Aldrich and Platt voting in the negative.

BORN.

SADLER—At Glendale, Nev., February 25, 1895, to the wife of Thomas Sadler, a son.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a disordered condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the only remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists. If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

T. M. Sanders of Susanville was an arrival by the N. O. O. last night.
Secretary of State Howell was a passenger for California last night.
Garden tools, water pipe, plumbing and tinning at Lange & Schmitt's.
W. H. Hill, a San Francisco Insurance man, was an east-bound passenger last night.
Plows, plow points, land sides, plow handles and beams at Lange & Schmitt's.
C. B. Wilson and Frank Martin of Sacramento were guests at the Palace last night.
Mrs. J. L. Campbell and daughter, Miss Clara, of Dayton, arrived on the V. & T. last evening and continued west.
Eastern prices for watch, clock and jewelry repairing at A. G. Spangler's, east side Virginia street. All work warranted.
Charlie Becker has only a few of those handsome 1896 pocket diaries left. He has a large assortment of other useful articles.
Chas. Lake will take subscriptions to any magazine or periodical published, or he will send and get any novel or other book one wishes.
"Henrietta," "Cast Aside," "Lost Child," "Is Life Worth Living?" are all popular songs. They can be had at Becker's Model Stationery Store.
For natural looking and comfortable fitting artificial teeth go to Hutchinson. His painless extracting is just the thing. Office Sunderland's building.

If you want first-class flour buy the Riverside Mill's Gold Medal. There is no flour in the market that will equal it in the opinion of housekeepers who have used it.
The reported sale of the Thompson block to General Downing was an error. Richard Ryland purchased the property yesterday from Mr. Thompson, and the papers are now being made out.
J. L. Gauthier, assignee of the stock of A. G. Spangler, makes an announcement in another column. He offers the entire stock of goods and fixtures by the piece or in lots to suit. Read the ad. in another column.
O. E. Clough has commenced work on the foundation for a two-story flat on the corner of Fourth and Ralston streets for C. T. Bender. Mr. Clough is now working on plans for six new residences, and he thinks there will be more buildings erected this season in Reno than for many years past.
Geo. H. Peckham sold a cow and a pealing steer to Holcomb Brothers of the Truckee Market. The cow dressed 1,000 pounds and the yearling 668 pounds. The live weight of the cow was a few pounds over a ton. The animals were fed on alfalfa, which is as fattening as corn in the ear.
Mrs. L. A. Blakeslee received a letter from her sister at Humboldt House yesterday informing her that Mr. Meacham, who was reported fatally injured a week ago by falling into a shaft, is in a fair way to recover. He sustained a serious wound in the head, but the skull was not fractured. He did not fall in a shaft, but fell off a rock while prospecting in the mountains.
The Omaha Herald tells why General Harrison has withdrawn from the Presidential contest. He is engaged to marry Mrs. Dimmick when the Lenten season is over, and then he will be too busy figuring out his relationship to his wife to bother with politics. As the husband of his first wife's niece he is his wife's uncle, and first cousin by marriage to his own children. He is the second cousin, as well as the grandfather of "Baby" McKee, and worst of all, he is the first cousin as well as the father of Russell Harrison.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys, will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whisky nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alternative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c. per bottle at Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

LOVELOCK NOTES.
Items of Interest from Western Humboldt.
LOVELOCK, Nev., February 23, 1896.
Geo. W. Williams of Wadsworth who has been visiting his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Williams, departed for home Tuesday, accompanied by his friend, Chas. Young.
Robert Dean arrived from San Francisco today. He says California is a poor place for a working man at the present time.
J. G. Taylor shipped ten cars of cattle to Miller & Lux of San Francisco Wednesday, and Mr. Cotton shipped ten cars of sheep to the Western Meat Market Thursday.
Joe Wheeler and F. F. Judge shipped a special train of twenty cars of cattle to Horn & Judge Sunday.
Jos. Marzen shipped a carload of choice beef steers to Truckee yesterday.
The farmers of Lovelock and vicinity seem very blue, as there is no prospect for much water this year.
Dr. McDonald has purchased two lots adjoining J. H. McIntosh, which are now being fenced. He proposes building a handsome house on the lots.
The young ladies of Lovelock are going to give a grand leap year ball on the 6th of March at the new school house hall, and everybody is anticipating a fine time.
The masquerade ball which was given by Rose Counsel of Chosen Friends on the 21st proved a grand affair. The prizes were awarded to the following persons: Best dressed lady, Mrs. G. Cook, as Paper Girl, best dressed gentleman, D. C. McCandless, Silver Knight; best sustained lady character, Mrs. D. O'Neal, Gypsy Fortune Teller; best sustained gentleman character, W. H. Benham, Spanish Clown. The following persons appeared in costume: Lizzie Borland, Blue Bells.

Ada Pitt, Fancy Costume.
Mrs. Nelson, Sprung.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.
Miss Anna Eva Fay Again Greeted by a Large Audience.
A large audience greeted Miss Fay at the Opera House last night and if anything those present were more mystified than the audience of the evening before. People whom not the least suspicion could rest upon as being in collusion with or having any prearranged plans with Miss Fay, made tests and were astonished at the wonderful answers the little lady gave to their questions. She is a marvel of mystery and the knowing ones and the best of theorists simply make themselves ridiculous in trying to explain how she does her work or how she is able to answer the questions propounded to her.
Miss Fay will appear here on Saturday night and will then take pleasure in endeavoring for she is not infallible, to answer every question asked either in the mind of the questioner or in writing. No one should miss the opportunity of seeing her, for the little woman is indeed a mysterious person. Litchfield, the greatest of facial expressionists and imitators, will be present and to see him alone is worth the price of admission. Tickets will be 25 and 50 cents.

THE ANNAPOLIS CADETSHIP.
To be Determined by Competitive Examination.
Professor Bray is in receipt of a letter from Congressman Newlands in which, after referring to his recent appointment of an alternate for George Bliss in the San Francisco examination for the West Point cadetship, he states that the appointment for Annapolis will be determined by competitive examination. The examination will be held some time before June 30th, and due notice will be given so that all who desire may compete.
The naval cadetship is one of the finest prizes in the State. Who wants it, who will strive for it? "Candidates must be over fifteen and under twenty years of age, and physically sound, well framed and of robust constitution."

Buckley's Africa Salve.
The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. STATE CAPITAL NOTES.

Joseph Langevin, the Principal Witness in the Conviction of Henry in the McRoberts Case, is Trouble Himself—The Mint Cases Come Up Next Week for a Fight to a Finish.
[Correspondence of the JOURNAL.]
The chief incident to-day has been the arrest and conviction of Joseph Langevin, principal and most essential witness in the conviction of James Henry, now in State Prison for robbing the Carson Mint.
Langevin has made himself a peculiar public character, assisted by the public in so doing, and now he comes up on a charge of using very offensive and obscene language on the public street. He applied to Justice Hawthorne for a warrant for the arrest of some of his neighbors at the north and of town, alleging that they had insulted himself and family. Hawthorne and District Attorney McGowan inquired into the matter and found nothing in it to issue a warrant upon. Between 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon Langevin met Judge Hawthorne on the street near the Arlington and asked him if he was going to issue that warrant. The Judge replied in the negative, giving his reasons therefor. Langevin at once turned loose in a cyclone of abuse and profanity, calling him numerous profane and exceedingly vulgar names in the presence of quite a crowd assembled around, and when the Judge threatened him with arrest he made a motion as though to strike him with a loaded cane he held in his hand, but was prevented. All this was proven in court to-day. Justice Wiggins of Empire presiding, as Hawthorne had to come on as a witness. Langevin pleaded his own case.
Langevin was sentenced to pay a $60 fine or stay thirty days in jail. He went to jail, saying he was too poor to pay the fine.
As for the remaining mint cases, they will come up next week, that of Johnny Jones being definitely set for March 2d, Monday next. It will probably last for a couple of weeks, to be followed by that of Henry Piper for a brief windup. Government mint examining expert Mason and Secret Service agent Gallagher are on their way from Washington and on the 28th inst. the big venue of trial jurors will be drawn from Washoe, Storey, Lyon, Ormsby and Douglas counties to serve for the term. Much interest is manifested and the legal points and aspects carefully studied. ALF. DOTEN.
Carson, February 25, 1896.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Items of Interest From Here, There and Everywhere.
Thirteen students of the University of Missouri are suspended on a charge of having stolen a sidewalk.
Silver is advancing in price. The supply in London is nearly exhausted and the metal is scarce on the market.
W. D. Jones, District Attorney of Lander county, has secured 75,000 Eastern brook trout fry to stock the streams of his county.
The Ber has been making careful estimates of the population of Sacramento and announces that it is between 39,000 and 85,000 and steadily increasing.
The Salvation Army people in the Eastern States, especially in Philadelphia, threaten to secede. They are displeased at the order from Europe removing Commander Ballington Booth.
The Tribune says Messrs Dreyfuss and Lee, who have a lease of the Golden Fleece mine, owned by Wm. McLaughlin of Silver City, have struck a vein of good ore, some of which will mill as high as $60 per ton. This is at a depth of only forty feet.
Miss Overman, whose present home address is at the residence of Rev. Dr. C. O. Brown, 1703 Geary street, San Francisco, is shown by the Spokane papers to be an adventuress of the worst character. She is an adept in the blackmailing business, procured a divorce from her first husband and then stole her sister's husband. And this is the woman on whose evidence Dr. Brown relies to establish his innocence.
The Hotel Reno.
This popular hostelry has been opened by that old timer Dan P. Hickey. Nearly every old Nevada knows him and his name at the head of any venture is an assured fact of its first-class management and success. The Hotel Reno will be run on strictly first-class principles and will be made a commercial travelers home with commodious sample rooms free and other accommodations. The patronage of the railroad boys is especially solicited as well as stockmen and the transient public generally. The rooms and board are first-class and every effort will be made to please patrons.
M. P. McInerney, the manager, is a man of experience and is too well known to need introduction. The office and bar-room will be directly under his supervision and his reputation as a micrologist is well known. Mac will be on hand at all times and anyone he takes under his charge will receive the best of treatment. The rates are reasonable and the patrons will have no cause for complaint.
Two Lives Saved.
Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her, and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St. San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else, then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this remedy for coughs and colds. Free trial bottles at Hodgkinson's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.
This Is Good News.
It will renew of genuine interest to state that Sousa and his peerless concert band, which numbers fifty fine artists, accompanied by Miss Myrta French, soprano, and Miss Carrie Duke, violinist, will shortly give one grand concert in this city on Wednesday evening next. Sousa is without a peer in the domain of concert band music, and his great band, under his magnetic leadership, is a thing of beauty and a joy to thousands who have heard them.

The Mississippi at the point where it flows out of Lake Itasca is ten feet wide and eighteen inches deep.

Tired Women
Need to have the action of the kidneys stimulated and the system toned up. Parke's Sure Cure is the best remedy to accomplish this. Many a woman finds that she is tired out when she ought not to be tired at all. She fears that her system is broken down and she is a hopeless invalid when a few doses of Parke's Sure Cure would make her look at life from a different point of view. Don't delay. Every bottle is guaranteed. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson.

Rev. Dr. Parker

Is the beloved pastor of the Universalist church at Fargo, N. D., and has also been a pastor in Providence, R. I., New York City and Troy, N. Y. He says: "I regard Hood's Sarsaparilla the best blood purifier, and I have good reason for this opinion. I am now 80 years of age. Four years ago I was afflicted with rheumatism in my back and limbs, so badly that it was impossible for me to get my usual sleep at night. I had just partially recovered from the grip, which reduced my weight 40 lbs. My appetite was poor and I felt languid and weak. In fact I was in a very dilapidated condition. Having heard and read so much about the wonderful cures produced by Hood's Sarsaparilla I resolved to give it a trial. I followed the directions, and before the fifth bottle was finished my appetite was restored, I felt invigorated and strong. My rheumatic difficulty had entirely disappeared. I cannot but think very highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla." J. N. PARKER.

Huxley's Wife.

When the Rattlesnake was in Sydney harbor, the officers were invited to a ball, and young Huxley among the number. There for the first time he met his future wife, whose parents resided at Sydney. A few days after they were engaged, and the ship sailed for the Tower strait to complete the survey of the north coast of Australia, all communication being cut off for months at a time, and then she returned direct to England. After that brief acquaintance (but, I believe, longer than a fortnight) it was seven years before the lovers saw one another. At the end of this time, on Huxley's appointment to the School of Mines, he was in a position to claim his bride and welcome her to their first home in St. John's Wood. He often used to say that to engage the affections of a young girl under these circumstances, knowing that he would have to leave her for an indefinite time, and with only the remotest prospect of ever seeing her, was an act most strongly recommended, and he often held it out as a warning to his children never to do anything of the kind, and yet they all married young and all happily.

Huxley's love at first sight and consummation during these seven long years of separation were richly rewarded, for it is impossible to imagine a pair more thoroughly suited. — North American Review.

The Fighting Swiss.

The year 1512 saw the Swiss mercenaries at the zenith of their power, when warring Austria and France alike away from Milan, they installed therein the ruler of their own choice. In the same year they met the Landsknechts at the passage of the Oglio and Ticino, and, finding the rivers stark naked, beat them back without waiting even to dress themselves. A few months later they showed even more magnificent insolence when besieged by the French in Novara; throwing the gates open, they begged the enemy not to be at the pains of making a breach, but to walk straight in. "Donnez-vous donc la peine d'entrer." The French made no reply, except to hammer away with their artillery, whereupon the Swiss mockingly sang the trenches with sheets as sufficient protection against so feeble a foe. Shortly after arrived re-enforcements from Switzerland, which, without pausing to rest more than an hour after a long and hurried march, dashed on in disorder against the encompassing troops and dispersed them with terrible loss. "If we could only reckon upon obedience in our men," said the Swiss leader, "we should march through the whole of France." — Macmillan's Magazine.

Hitchcock—Wilmot.

The Anglo-Saxon suffixes "kin" and "cock" were used as diminutive or endearing terms of personal names, just as the Normans used the suffixes "et," "er," "en" and "on." Thus from Hith, a diminutive of Richard, we get the surnames Hitchkin, Hitchcock, Hitchens and Hitchison. Any common personal name affords a number of such variants, which became fixed as patronymics or surnames. There are, for example, at least 15 different forms of William available for that purpose. English forms: William, giving Williams, Williamson, MacWilliam, Fitzwilliams; Will, giving Wills, Wilson; Bill, giving Bilson; Willy, giving Wilkin.

Anglo-Saxon forms: Wilkin, giving Wilkie, Wilkins, Wilkison; Gilkin, giving Gilkison; Wilcock, giving Wilcox.

Norman forms: Guillaume, giving the surname Gilliam; Guillaumot, giving Gilliamot; Guillon, giving Gillon; Guillot, giving Gillot, Gillotson; Guill, giving Gilson, McGill; Willett, giving Willet; Williamot, giving Wilmot; Wilton, giving Wilton, Willing. — New York Times.

Vegetarians Use Fleshly Names.

Vegetarian restaurants are by degrees giving up the use of such titles for their dishes as convey the idea of a meat diet, but they still find the word "steak" indispensable. Otherwise their bill of fare is much improved and of a more inviting character than it used to be. "Indian broth" reads well on a cold December day, and "braised onion with tomatoes" appeals to many. But what is "vegetable turkey?"

It seems to be rather a confession of weakness to be dependent on the animal world for names wherewith to invest the various preparations of vegetables, cereals and fruits. To America they owe many forms of succulent and tempting food, such as fried corn, maize with plums and pineapple pudding made from the tinned fruit. The use of cheese, forbidden by some of the strictest followers of vegetarianism, enables the caterers to offer such savory dishes as Welsh rabbit, cheese fritters and custards, and the odors that are emitted are of the most savory and appetizing description. — London News.

Little Words.

Harry—I cannot offer you wealth, Marie; my brains are all the fortune I possess.

Marie—Oh, Harry, if you are as badly off as that I'm afraid papa will never give his consent. — Strand Magazine.

COUGHS and COLDS

REID'S PNEUMOLA BALSAM is a sure Remedy for coughs, colds, sore throat and for asthma. It quickly abates the cough, and renders expectoration easy.

Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use. Many who suppose their disease to be consumption are only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seated cough, often aggravated by catarrh. For catarrh use Reid's Cream Balm, 50 cents per bottle. PNEUMOLA BALSAM, 25c. Sold by Druggists. REID BROTHERS, 55 Warren St., New York.
